INSURANCE COMPANY THAT WILL PROTECT AGAINST STRIKES.

The New Venture Will Be Backed by the National Association of Manufacturers.

STATEMENT OF DAVID M. PARRY

RESULT OF RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT NEW ORLEANS CONVENTION.

Legal Department Will Also B Maintained to Fight the Aggressions of Labor Unions.

One of the greatest insurance companies in the world is about to be formed by the National Association of Manufacturers. The company will protect its members from loss arising from strikes and will also insure free labor against physical injuries and financial loss arising from the coercion of strikers. The company will have a backing of $100,000,000. The subject of forming a strike insurance company has been discussed at a number of conferences beginning with the New Orleans convention, where Mr. J. G. Battelle, a millionaire manufacturer of New York and Columbus, O., brought it up in the shape of a resolution, which, however, was not acted upon by the convention, but was allowed to lie over for consideration by the executive committee of the association. The 16 and 20-button Lengths; $2.00, $2.75, latter committee recently held a meeting in New York city, where it is understood the Men's White Kid, $1.25, $1.50, $1.85 | matter was discussed and a committee appointed to investigate the subject, and if the project appeared feasible and seemed likely to meet with encouragement to go ahead with it. It is now learned that the committee has met with a hearty indorsement from many manufacturers and that its plans are about completed. It is also even said that the neucleus of a company has already been formed which has practically unlimited capital behind it.

The resolution introduced at New Orleans by Mr. Battelle, which throws some light on the aim of the new company, is as fol-

"Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the president to formulate a plant for an organization, under the auspices of this association, to insure certain manufacturers against a certain portion of any losses resulting from strikes of their employes; it being provided that this association shall in no event be responsible for any such losses, and also that said insurance organization shall only insure manufacturers who are members of the National Association of Manufacturers, or of some other organization approved by said insurance organization, formed in part, at least, for the purpose of negotiating for its members with employes on the subject of wages when occasion may require it."

D. M. PARRY'S STATEMENT. Mr. D. M. Parry, president of the national association, was asked yesterday in regard to the reports concerning the new enterprise. He stated that he could not give any detailed information at this time, but confirmed the statements made that something of the kind was under way. He acknowledged that the executive committee and prominent members of the association

"While the plans are somewhat in a formative stage," he said, "yet I have little doubt they will be worked out to a feasible basis, and I have confidence in the new company being able to accomplish much good. Some very able gentlemen are taking the initiative in the matter, and I think that whatever they attempt to do will be

"Will the company be a stock or a mu-tual company?" was asked him. "I believe," said he, "that it must necessarily be a mutual company. It is likely that the membership will be kept entirely secret, only the officers of the company being known. If this is done organized labor will never know, when it orders a strike. whether it is really fighting combined capital or merely making an onslaught on one

"The objects," replied Mr. Parry, "are obvious. They are to protect all its policy holders against losses arising from strikes, and also to protect independent workmen who care to exercise their great American privilege of working for whom they please and for what they please. In order to do all this a considerable fund will have to be accumulated, and this will be done. You must not suppose, however, that we intend to enter upon a great scheme of coercion of our employes. We leave to organized labor all coercive practices. CAPITAL ON DEFENSIVE.

"You must understand, and the public ought to understand by this time, that capital is on the defensive in this labor controversy. All that the employers desire is to be permitted to exercise their just rights of citizenship in this Republic. In order that they may do so, it appears that they cannot depend upon the moral backing of the community or the power of the government, and that therefore it is necessary for them to devise ways and means for protecting themselves from aggression. I am reminded of a story I was reading the other day about the manner in which some of the early manufacturers of Great Britain had to do. It appears that the weavers maintained an armory at their factories, and that their men were not only workmen, but also soldiers to protect the establishment from mobs and organized bands of robbers and cut-throats. I do not guarantee the faithfulness of this portrayal of early days, but if true it shows an interesting analogy to modern conditions, in which men in business have to look out in a measure for their own protection, although, of course, the modern methods of social brigandage are a little more refined and in keeping with advanced civilization. There are comparatively only a few murders committed now in the name of the poor workingman, and the principal aim of ill-advised unions is merely to ruin the employer financially. I suppose it will be charged that the National Association engineering a move to fill its war chest, and to wage an inhuman fight against their emgood to deny the statement. I have repeatedly said that I was not opposed to organized labor per se, but was opposed to its lawlessness and its un-American programme of holding up the industries of the country. And yet I am declared to be in favor of exterminating the unions. The conclusion must be that unionism is so allied with methods that are obnoxious to Americanism that to oppose such methods is to oppose unionism. I do not desire to accept such a conclusion, and I believe that there are a great many workmen in this country who are proving that unionism does not necessarily mean lawlessness. Eightyfive per cent. of the wage-earners do not belong to unions, and yet they survive, are contented, and obtain a fair share of enjoyment out of life. The 15 per cent. which is said to belong to organized labor, how-ever, persists in telling the people that they are being oppressed, and that the employers are crushing them down to the starvation LABOR TAXES ITSELF. "They tax themselves and have accumulated great funds with which to fight their battles against the men that employ them. They make one demand after another, their demands being limited only by their own avarice and without regard to the ability of the employer to accede to them. Natural lege, chairman; Dr. S. B. Harding, of the law fixes the remuneration of the 85 per department of history, Indiana University; cent., but it appears that in the minds of Mrs. Adelaide Baylor, superintendent of many it is almost treasonable to say that the 15 per cent. should be amenable to the same law. Nevertheless the employers are disposed to say that they will not be governed by the 15 per cent., and that they will protect themselves against their aggressions. As organized labor has amassed considerable funds with which to Feed your horse JANES'S Dustless Oats.
